Personal Breathalyser

The Model-T Ford. The Dyson Cleaner. The iPod.

Just occasionally a new product is launched that is so much better than any of its forerunners that it bears no comparison. The AlcoDigital 3000 may not be a mass market product like the iPod, but there has never been a Personal Breathalyser that combines such high levels of Accuracy with Outstanding Reliability - at such an amazingly Low Price.

Professional drivers such as chauffeurs, driving instructors, taxi drivers and sales representatives know that driving safely and within the law is vital to their livelihood, as do those who are self-employed or who have to drive to and from work.

Draeger has been supplying the world's police forces with breath alcohol measuring equipment for over 50 years. Over 65% of the UK Police forces use the Home-Office approved Draeger 6510, but this device costs nearly £800 - far too much for individuals.

Now however AlcoDigital, the UK's largest independent supplier of Breathalysers, has launched the AlcoDigital 3000. Manufactured in Germany on their behalf by Draeger themselves - with exactly the same advanced electrochemical sensor technology that forms the core of their 6510/6810 Police Approved Breathalysers.

Cheaper Personal Breathalysers from China & Korea have been around for a while, but none of them come even close to the quality of the 3000 - hence it is the only breathalyser sold in the UK with a full two year warranty.

The most Accurate Personal Detector in the World today. Combining automatic sampling and calibration processes with short reaction times, this ergonomically designed, ambidextrous unit offers precise measurements at the touch of a button. Fast, reliable and accurate, it is also robust and hygienic in use.

The only unit for sale in the UK with a Two Year Warranty So certain are we of total reliability that this is the first Breathalyser available in the UK with a Two Year Warranty. No other supplier gives such an unparalleled guarantee.

Dealer configuration Dealers can easily adapt the AlcoDigital 3000 to meet different national drink driving limits. It can also be configured to display a wide range of languages including French, Italian and Swedish as well as many other European languages. As with all Breathalysers, it should be serviced and calibrated every 12 months to ensure accuracy.

Simple operation With straightforward, single button operation, the 3000 is ready for use within seconds of start up and offers up to 1500 measurements from a single set of standard batteries (AA size). Measurement results are shown as clear, plain-text messages via a backlit display, and are confirmed by audible signals and coloured LEDs.

Police Mouthpieces Supplied with the same "Slide'n'click" mouthpieces used on the Police Breathalysers ensures a correct fit with no leaks. The 3000 also features a special air outlet which cannot be obstructed and which prevents breath sample manipulation. The position of the mouthpiece according to the grip area guarantees a hygienic distance between hand and mouth.

Other devices may be cheaper but none offer the reliability, consistency and above all, the accuracy of the AlcoDigital 3000.

Quite simply, the AlcoDigital 3000 is the most accurate, reliable, and easiest to use Personal Breathalyser in the world today.
